Preserving LMU Support for Dreamers

Immediately following the announcement that Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) would be rescinded, the campus community at Loyola Marymount University displayed its support for LMU Dreamers in a variety of modes. In addition to an official statement of support from President Snyder and a public rally, the staff of the William H. Hannon Library set up a board in our lobby inviting visitors to write notes of encouragement for their friends and classmates affected by the Trump Administration's decision. University Archivist Lauren Longwell is working to enshrine these notes in institutional memory by adding them to the Loyola Marymount University Archives.
